

Didsbury Lions' Club Plans Big Jamboree on July 27

Posters are now out announcing the Didsbury Lions' annual jamboree which is scheduled to take place here on Wednesday, July 27. The big day starts with a monster parade which forms up at the Rosebud Garage at 10:30 a.m. and starts on the parade route at 11 a.m. Prizes will be awarded for the best Decorated Float, Decorated Bicycle, A Kid and His Dog, Best Rider and Mount, any type dress, best Old Time Outfit and the best Clown. Advertising displays of farm equipment, etc. are wanted to take part in the parade, and entries must be in to C.E. Reiber by Monday, July 25. Cars will be provided for all old timers who wish to appear in the parade.

Children's races 5p to 10 years of age and under will be held at the Butte during the day. Novelty races and a Jamboree Special will also be on the program.

High class baseball is in store for all who attend, with four outstanding teams competing for first prize money of $200 and a second prize of $100. The ladies' softball tournament offers a first prize of $20 and second of $10, and keen competition is expected in this event.

Midway attractions will be set up on the grounds at the Butte and a merry-go-round will thrill the children in its endless round of pleasure. The Didsbury Lions' Club band will be in attendance on the bandstand to supply entertaining music at intervals.

Topping off the day's events will be a semi-orchestra dance in the Memorial arena in the evening. Good music is assured for all lovers of the sedate wait to the whirling hip-acts. Midway attractions will also be in full swing in the arena. All in all, the day should be one of huge enjoyment, so pack up the family and be on hand for a good time. Proceeds are for the Didsbury and District Memorial Community Center Fund.

Brothers Meet After 44 Years

It was a happy day for August Nettay, who resides at Westward 10 with his daughter, Mrs. Earl Grace, when his brother, Albert R. Nettay of Lansing, Michigan, came up to visit him in July. It was the first time they had met since August left Michigan in 1905 to homestead in Alberta.

Mr. A.R. Nettay had written to a number of places in an effort to locate his brother but failed to find him and came to the conclusion he had passed away. However, this spring Mrs. Grace wrote to another brother, John Nettay of Capac, Michigan, to get her father's birth certificate. When she wrote she did not know if any relatives were left or not. John immediately answered, sending along the birth certificate and also passing word to the other brothers that Gus was still alive.

Albert Nettay, who has spent 33 years in the Oldsmobile division of General Motors at Lansing, decided to spend his vacation in Alberta. He spent two days visiting relatives here and then he and his daughters, Beulah and Edna, took August Nettay to Banff for a holiday and then returned to Calgary for the Stampede. They also visited the Columbia Icefields and Lake Louise before returning to Lansing via Banff and Yellowstone National Park in the U.S.

SUCH WAS LIFE

Ezra Sherrick, like other early settlers, had no money. A sod-roofed shack on a homestead was little comfort when the stomach began to talk its meal-time language. Mr. Sherrick relates the following experience:

"Having landed a much-needed job on the Scarlett ranch, three miles south of my homestead on the Rosebud creek, and not having a saddle horse, I was obliged to walk going and coming. Mr. Scarlett warned me of the danger of being on foot in case I struck the cattle on the range, as they would take after me in an unfriendly manner.

"On my first week end return home I scanned the prairie to see what my chances were of avoiding any cattle. The way seemed clear and I struck out.

"By the time I was half way home a thunder shower was in the making and a few head of cattle were showing up, peacefully grazing at a distance. Everything was fine until suddenly a thunder bolt struck heavily and in no time cattle were running and bellowing from all directions. Before I could make a get-away there were about two hundred head of cattle crowding in on me. I saw the first stampede on the prairie without riders in charge.

"What could I do? Quick action was necessary. I took off my coat, waved it over my head and yelled at the top of my voice as I ran as hard as I could into fate. This strange and unexpected maneuvering scared and dispersed the cattle, and after a run for my life I was exhausted but safe. Needless to say, after such a scare I soon had a saddle pony."

Fish and Game Association Committee Chairmen Active

While the Didsbury Fish and Game Association will not hold another regular meeting until the first week in September, the members of the various committees have not been idle and the work of the Association has been steadily going on during the past few weeks.

Ed Grange, chairman of the pre-bud control committee, has probably been the busiest executive member, having handled around 3,000 crow and magpie feed during the summer campaign which closed on June 30. This is the best showing of the Didsbury Association to date and Ed will shortly issue a complete report.

Irwin Klein, chairman of the big game committee, mixed business with pleasure a few weeks ago when he accompanied three of his hunting cronies on a fishing expedition to the head of the James River. While the party was successful in getting over 100 bull trout in the James, Irwin took time out to fish over the big game situation in the area and reported numerous deer and signs of many moose in the territory. The wolves are scarce in the James River area and Irwin says they appear to have gone further north again.

Ed Ford, chairman of the fish committee, has been instrumental in having some restocking done in our west streams by the Fisheries Department, and to date 30,000 cutthroat trout have been released in the Fallen Timber, and 10,000 in the backwater on the Rosegoud ranch. It is expected that further restocking from the Raven Hatchery will be done before the season ends.

Jack Topley, chairman of the membership committee was away on an extended trip to the coast, but since returning has been doing a good job in rounding up new members.

Super Fastball Game Scheduled Friday

The Lions' "Colored Giants" and the Legion "House of David Millionaires" tackle this Friday, July 22, in a Didsbury world's series fastball game which holds promise of some fast, exciting action and comedy situations. The game is being held at the ball diamond east of the elevators and starts at 6:30 p.m. sharp.

The Colored Giants, recruited from the ranks of the Didsbury Lions Club will appear on the field, appropriately colored. The Legion Millionaires will sport the House of David touring ball team trademark of whiskers, and the facial foliage will no doubt increase the speed and expert play in the field and at bat.

Come out and see the boys perform this Friday evening. A silver collection will be taken, with the proceeds going to the Didsbury Memorial Community Center Fund.

Dairy Calf Clubs Judge Cattle At Olds School of Agriculture

Olds, Didsbury, Bechtou, Bowden and Ace Dairy Calf Clubs met at the O.S.A. at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, June 11. They judged three classes of female Holsteins which had been prepared by the herdsman, Dave Ogilvie. About 70 club members took part.

Hugh McPhail, district agricultural agent, explained what he wanted the members to do and what to look for in a good Holstein. After they had completed their score cards Mr. Vic Bjorkland placed the cow and calf class. Mr. Dave Ogilvie placed the two-year-old heifer class. Both gave excellent reasons.

After the judging about 125 members and friends enjoyed a picnic lunch in the new Mechanics Pavilion. Coffee and milk were supplied by the O.S.A. Mr. Yauch, principal, had had tables and chairs installed and some of the staff help with serving. This innovation proved very satisfactory and all the visitors appreciated the service rendered.

After lunch Mr. McPhail, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Mr. Yauch and the various club leaders or their deputies. Mr. Yauch members at $1 each and last week secured over 30 new members. Jack expects to double this at least before he completes his job.

The secretary, George McDonald, has kept things going and while refunds on the predator campaign have been slow in coming back from provincial headquarters, the Association has been in the fortunate position of being able to finance the campaign. George has sent in the member names for game association magazines and all members ordering a magazine should now be receiving it.

Raymond Fulkert, chairman of migratory and upland birds committee hasn't had much opportunity to get definite facts this early in the season, but reports that the Hungarian partridge hatch has been good this year and the birds are more plentiful than for many years.

The joint picnic sponsored by Didsbury, Olds and Innisfail Associations in past years, will be held on July 31st, and this year the Red Deer Association has been included, which completes the main central Alberta associations into one group, and a bang-up affair should result with many added attractions. A bulldozer is now on the Raven Hatchery picnic grounds.

Walther League Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of the Redeemer Walther League was held on Tuesday, July 19. Since the newly elected president, Fred Reese, was absent the vice-president, Oscar Reinhardt, occupied the chair. Pastor Fox led the group in a round table talk on the Person and Work of the Holy Ghost.

During the business session it was reported that $208 had been netted from the play, "Yimmie Yonson's Yob." A report on the Walther League summer camp at Sylvan Lake was given. It was shown that the local League had over 25 Leaguers at camp. In a report on the election of officers for the district executive of the Leaguers, it was stated that Mr. Eddie Hanson of Calgary and Rev. E.R. Fox of Didsbury had been elected as representatives of the Southern Alberta zone. Rev. Fox reported that he had been appointed sales manager of the Wheatridge Christmas Seals campaign.

Since the weeds have grown up around the church, the Leaguers decided to meet on Tuesday, July 19, and hold a clean-up bee. Plans for an excursion to Calgary in the early part of August were further discussed. It was also resolved to consider the feasibility of entering a float in the forthcoming Didsbury Jamboree celebration, and a committee comprising Rev. Fox, Otto Bartz, Alvina Jans, Erna Reinhardt and John Folkman was elected for this purpose.

Dairy Calf Clubs Judge Cattle At Olds School of Agriculture

Each of the following spoke briefly: Tom Morris, leader of the Didsbury Club; Mr. Kad, deputy-leader of the Ace club; Andy Miller, deputy-leader of the Olds club; Arthur Outten, leader of the Bechtou club; and James Brewster, leader of the Bowden club. Cards were marked while a softball tournament was in progress.

High scorers in judging were Verne Petersen, Olds, with 79½ points. Second was Bob Brewster, Bowden, with 76½ points. Others near the top were Lorna Brewster, Jimmie Brewster, Bob Thomas, James Thomas, and Gwen Clarke, Didsbury.

Everyone is holidaying these days. An old time resident of the district Mrs. Farley (nee Violet Smith) attended the shower for Miss Ida Novacek on Tuesday, July 12. Mrs. Farley now resides at Powell River, B.C. It was good to see her, but no doubt she saw many changes.

Wednesday afternoon, July 13, more folks arrived from B.C. Mrs. Mart Jacobsen and daughters, accompanied by Mrs. Jacobsen of this district, called on Mrs. O. Krebs. A congenial visit was enjoyed and then everyone wanted to know about the new granddaughter. As a result the boys were called from their house painting job, all piled into the car and started off to pay Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krebs an afternoon call. The group arrived to find everyone busy in the garden and the baby sleeping sweetly in her crib—and she's something to be proud of. With the day waning reluctant goodbyes were said and the return trip made. Mrs. Mart Jacobsen returned to Calgary the same evening.
